DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

2. Claims 1,5,8,11,12,16,19,22 and 23 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by GB2185116.

‘116 discloses : Regarding Claims 1,5,8 and 23 a method of distributing the blades of a turbomachine rotor in which radial and tangential static moments of a plurality of blades are initially measured, and then the blades are classified in pairs on the basis of a determined selection criterion depending on the previously measured two static moments, and finally the blades of the selected pairs are mounted one by one on the rotor in diametrically opposite positions (Fig. 1; page 1, lines 110-118;page 2, lines 65-77);

Regarding Claim 11; a method of distributing blades on a rotor, comprising: measuring radial and tangential static moments of a plurality of blades, classifying the blades in the plurality in pairs according to said radial and tangential static moments; and after the measuring and classifying, mounting the blades of the pairs one by one on the rotor in diametrically opposite positions (Fig. 1; page 1, lines 110-118;page 2, lines 65-77);

and Regarding Claims 12,16,19 and 22, a method of distributing blades on a turbomachine rotor, comprising: measuring radial and tangential static moments of each blade individually, classifying the blades in pairs based on the measured radial and tangential static moments; and mounting the blades of the pairs one by one on the rotor in diametrically opposite positions (Fig. 1; page 1, lines 110-118; page 2, lines 65-77).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. Claims 2-4,6,7, 9,10,13-15,17,18,20 and 21 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over GB2185116 in view of SU858429.

‘116 teach the limitation except the selection criterion comprises determining for two given blades both a radial/axial static moment difference and a tangential static moment difference, and in verifying that the radial/axial static moment difference is not greater than a first determined value and that the tangential/axial static moment difference is not greater than a second/third determined value.

‘429 teach the selection criterion comprises determining for two given blades both a radial/axial static moment difference and a tangential static moment difference, and in verifying that the radial/axial static moment difference is not greater than a first determined value and that the tangential/axial static moment difference is not greater than a second/third determined value (Abstract translation).

It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to employ the step of ‘429 on the method of ‘116 so as to balance the blades.

Art Unit: 3726

Regarding Claims 3,4,7,10,14,15,18,21, the determined value is considered to have been obvious matter of choice, since it has been held discovering an optimum value of a result effective variable involves only routine skill in the art. In re Boesch, 617 F.2d 272, 205 USPQ (CCPA 1980)

Response to Arguments

5. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1-23 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection. See the new Office action.

Conclusion

6. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
